TRAC match – August 11, 2026 – Anthony Turchetta, match director

After the rain and storms overnight, it “felt” a bit cooler today, probably because of the breeze. The “breeze” amounted to wind out of the west to northwest at between 8 and 12 mph, but with no gusts. It just felt a bit blustery; not quite sure how else to put it. It wasn’t constant, but would build up and die down…..from 8 to 12 mph…..abruptly. Yeah, it was always there.

The skies were a combination of overcast and mostly cloudy. On the way to the range this morning, the sky to the south had intermittent patches of blue, but the skies the north definitely looked angry; dark with occasional lightning, and gave the appearance of wanting to pour at any minute, but didn’t. The temps ranged from 84° up to 88°, but the humidity was up around 55% and felt “sticky”. That is about as descriptive as I can get.

To augment the weather, Tony set up a course of same sized KZ’s on the same lane. One target was somewhat normal in positioning, while the next one was stretched out. I say somewhat normal, but that is not his usual forte; it was typical Tony. When you see the scores, you will understand. There were only 5 of us on hand today, and we had fun. Everybody was in the same boat, so to say….

39/48 – Anthony Turchetta / Daystate Bluwolf / Hunter PCP
38/48 – Bill Cole / Daystate Revere / Hunter PCP
36/48 – Jesse Avery / BRK Ghost / Hunter PCP
31/48 – Mark Kauffman / AA TX200 / Open Piston, and tied with…
31/48 – Tom Jadlos / Daystate Revere / Hunter PCP

This coming Saturday is our monthly match at Mormon Lake. Almost missed announcing it because the 1st of August was on a Saturday……sorry!

With nothing else to report, I will sign off for now.

Respectfully submitted,
